Dear George,
I have enjoyed our class of Latin II together this year. I really admired you yesterday during the honor assembly as you received your award. Keep your high achievements up and you'll be able to accomplish any task you try. You've got a good head on your shoulders and be sure you keep it. I have thought of you as being my friend and I hope you are mine. Be sure to have a nice summer and take special care in whatever you do. See you next year - maybe.

Mike Head was chosen as Civitan Medalist by the members of his senior class and the school faculty.

Mike has participated in many campus activities. Besides holding the position of president of the Senior Class, he is president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and a committee chairman in the Student Council.

Along with his other activities, Mike is an avid sports fan. Being a very capable member of the MHS football squad, Mike was selected as an "All-City Tackle" during his junior and senior years. He also served as captain of the team his senior year.

Mike's sincerity and the shy smile that lights up his face whenever he meets anyone at school combine to make him popular with members of both sexes. His quiet, good manners coupled with his wonderful personality and his sense of responsibility make him popular with the entire student body.

With the image he creates, Mike is a perfect Civitan Medalist.

BECKY HEROD

Vivacious and petite Becky Herod has been a definite asset to Madison High. She was selected as DAR Medalist by the entire senior class and members of the faculty.

Becky represents citizenship and leadership in every way. She is an active member of the GAA and serves as secretary of the Senior Class. For six years Becky has been a member of the Ramette basketball squad and for two years she was chosen by her teammates as captain. Serving her school and community in every phase, Becky is an active participant in her church and student council.

Becky's beauty is widely recognized as is shown by the many honors she has won. She was selected as Senior Hillbilly Attendant, and this year the football team chose her to reign as Homecoming Queen. As a final tribute to the Best Looking Girl in the senior class, the entire student body voted for Becky to represent MHS as Miss Madison.

Her wonderful personality, combined with her sense of duty to others, her grace and charm, makes Becky an unforgettable person. Nowhere could a more versatile and well-qualified girl be found to be DAR Medalist.

RAM STAFF

BARBARA DUNLAP
Editor

Becky Peacher, Daryl Steverson, Dolores Bass and Kathy Fleming get set for work as assistants to the editors.

When the first days of autumn made their appearance, so did the plans for the RAM 1967. September and planning for the layout turned quickly into October and making the first color photo to appear in the RAM. November brought a successful sales campaign highlighted by a drawing for a transistor radio. When December made its appearance, class representatives frantically sorted pictures before leaving for Christmas vacation. During January, the most frequent scene was Joel Crowell with his camera or a fresh batch of photos on his way to find Barbara and more pictures to be made. With the advent of February and the deadline, editors, their assistants, and typists practically lived in the workroom writing and typing copy and cropping photos. Once the deadline was met, the months of March, April, and May were months of waiting, waiting, waiting for THAT DAY when everyone would see the colors and designs chosen so secretly, and be reminded of those never-to-be forgotten events at Madison in 1967.

Typists Arthur Harris, Cindy Potter, Brenda Huffine, and Sandra Burnette check their copy while artist Melinda Pate sketches the staff in action.

Sorting all those pictures is a formidable task for Freshman and Sophomore Class Representatives Karen Helmers, Jean Engan, Mark Ethridge, Scott Lee, Judy Woodson, Patricia Gilley, Dianne Brimm, and Janice Miles.

Mrs. Miller, Mr. Wolery, and Mrs. Pollard consult on final plans for the RAM.

The year 1966-1967 has been one of progress for the RAM PAGE. Beginning as an eight-page publication in September, the paper advanced to a twelve-page monthly in November and added color for the special Christmas edition.

Students were greeted with a sixteen pages packed with news, views, features, and pictures when they returned after the holidays to greet the New Year.

The January issue marked more than one first for the RAM PAGE. Safety Week was extended to include MHS's three sister school, Litton, Stratford, and East, in an effort to block traffic fatalities and accidents on Gallatin Road. The staff went all out in their campaigning. Car stickers were designed, devotionals planned, and a special assembly set up to wind up the week's activities.

The RAM PAGE staffers began squeezing issues in after January in order to make room for the two all-important papers of the year; the junior and senior editions.

February featured a scoop on the Miss Madison election, March got spring off to a roaring start, April led to May, and May to the end of highly successful and most satisfactory year for the MHS RAM PAGE.

Linda Gilliland presents an idea for Sadie Hawkins Week.

Providing improvement, dedication, and betterment to Madison High School, the Student Council is an organization in which closer contact and relationships are exerted between the students and faculty. The general welfare of the student body is the main objective of the council and consistent concern and proposals are aimed toward this cause.

Committees within the council are established to contribute to the analysis of certain areas of school life and suggest improvements when needed. Various school functions are planned and scheduled by the student council officers who work with the school officials and leaders.

"Active" is a very descriptive adjective of the Madison High School Student Council. Functions sponsored by the council are enjoyable, educational, and meaningful. A variety of activities such as assemblies, socials, welfare collections, and various campaigns are presented throughout the entire school year.

Serving as an active member of the Nashville Inter-High, the Madison High School Student Council hosted a March meeting of this organization at which the vice-mayor of Nashville spoke.

Student needs, suggestions, and affairs are daily met, heard, and discussed by the Student Council, and its cause is a vital characteristic of close relationships.

The symbol of success during one's high school career is membership in the National Honor Society. As its name indicates, NHS is a nationally recognized organization; no matter where alumni go after graduation, they will receive recognition for their membership. Students are admitted on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. A 2.5 average for the three semesters prior to their admission is the scholastic basis for membership; the faculty approves their qualities in the areas of integrity and service. Although the National Honor Society is primarily an honorary organization which recognizes high achievement, the Madison Chapter renders a valuable service to the student body. The NHS sponsors a student tutoring program to serve those pupils requiring help in subject areas they find difficult.

The National Forensic League stresses individual speaking ability, allows participation in interscholastic competition, and recognizes achievement by granting membership and awarding the four degrees of Merit, Honor, Excellence, and Distinction. These degrees are based on points earned in competition with students from other schools. In competition this year, Madison's Forensic Chapter has won many awards and trophies in tournaments throughout Nashville, Kentucky, Georgia, and Washington, D. C.

In June, 1967, the national convention of the NFL will meet in Nashville at David Lipscomb College, and the Madison Chapter will play a major role in hosting the many delegates from across the United States.

The Quill and Scroll Society, an international society for outstanding student journalists, has 28 members in the Madison High School chapter. These members have done superior work for either the RAM or the RAM PAGE. They rank in the upper third of their class and are recommended by their advisors and approved by the faculty.

Madison's chapter has been instrumental in promoting participation in worthwhile writing contests, notably the Belmont Wordfest. The biggest project of the year has been the editing and production of a literary magazine.

The National Thespian Society, an honorary organization dedicated to the performing arts, is now in its third year at Madison. Drama, comedy, and tragedy are given equal emphasis as individual endeavors to become a troupe member in good standing.

The Thespian Society boasts its own magazine and seven hundred and twenty affiliated chapters throughout the United States and in Europe. Local organizations are governed by troupe officers chosen by popular election.

During the 1966-67 school year, Troupe No. 2673 produced and presented two plays: "Where the Cross Is Made" by Eugene O'Neill and Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple." These plays were entered in competition with those given by other schools, and in each instance Madison was proud of the high achievements of its Thespian troupe.

The major purpose of the Library Lassies is to promote usage of the library and interest in reading and to aid the students in understanding the potential help of the library. The Lassies entered the English classes twice this year to show the pupils the new books added to the already huge selection at Madison. Once in the fall during Book Week and once in the spring, the Lassies served our school in this way and also compiled a 15 page bibliography to aid the faculty.

During Christmas the Lassies gave the library a festive, international air with their presentations centering on Christmas in such countries as Spain, England, Germany, and France. When the librarians from Metro schools visited Madison in early January, they were very impressed with the efficiency of the Lassies and had praise for the beauty of the library.

With the induction of thirteen new members during the spring, the organization continued its outstanding program with special activities during American Library Week.

Library Lassies Sharon Bell, Connie Johnson, Joan Crawford, Sandi Wooten, Pat Alden and Lydia Hedge choose books for a display.

New members Steve Mills, Cindy Settle, Pam Potts, Beverly Moore, Debra Mullins, Cathy Donahoe, Patricia Gilley, Pam Reed, Ricky Westbrook, Donna Judd, Pat Busby, Mary Saunders, and Dowdy Pierce get acquainted with the biographical section of the library.

Throughout the school day stamping books and cards is a major task for Lassies Janis Ivey, Elita Coleman, Nancy Jo Allen, Judy Brawner, Linda Franklin, and Beverly Earnest.

The Library Lassie Scrapbook receives the attention of Jane Goetz, Virginia Qualls, Teresa Hamlin, Nancy Dutton, and Brenda Earnest.

SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

BULLETIN BOARD COMMITTEE

Time, talent, and ideas—these are the ingredients contributed by a group of students and faculty members, and the result is an always interesting display on the bulletin boards in our halls. Under the direction of Beverly Alexander, student chairman, and Mrs. Joy Wilson, faculty sponsor, these displays reflect the Madison spirit in the ideas which are presented and the lessons that are taught.

CUSTODIANS

The services rendered by Mr. Roy Baxter and his aides Robert Schoate, Dorothy Houston, James Cunningham, Howard Scruggs and James Walton are truly appreciated by MHS students who find a neat and orderly campus a better place to study and live.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Under the direction of Mr. Howard Wolery, photographers John Scott, Joel Crowell, and Frank Scott produce an amazing amount of work as they photograph, develop, and print the many, many photos of groups and events at MHS. The RAM is especially indebted to them for the many hours they spend producing our photos before those inevitable deadlines.

SAFETY PATROL BOYS

The traffic and safety problems at MHS are alleviated to a great extent by the untiring work of patrol boys Ronnie Mullins, Donald Leaman, Steve Karponai, Gary Mangram, Phillip Smithson and Bill Taylor who work under the direction of Mr. Harry DeLosh and the Mothers' Patrol.

GUIDANCE OFFICE WORKERS

Those Junior and Senior girls who spend their free period working in the guidance office often find themselves acting as hostesses in the reception area or assisting fellow students in finding information on jobs or schools. The guidance counselors and the specialized staff members have found that Teresa Slaughter, Jo Ann Parrish, Paula Teeple, Daryl Steverson, Peggy Brooks, Diane Sykes, Mary Jane Head, Brenda Walker, Kathy Douglas, and Janice Hand are more than willing to assist in any way.

OFFICE WORKERS

Each year approximately twenty-five seniors are chosen by the Administration to be office workers, one of the most responsible and coveted positions a student may hold at Madison. Under the direction of Mr. DePriest, Mr. Bridgeman, Mrs. Christianson, and Mrs. Barrass, the office workers soon find that the many duties which they have are never dull and provide them with an experience as valuable as it is unforgettable. Their service to the faculty, their fellow students, and visitors has made them an indispensable group.

AUDIO-VISUAL AIDS

Recorders, record players, projectors, projectors, projectors, screens, films, filmstrips—all are needed and used daily in a modern high school. Madison's corps of Audio-Visual Aids Boys work constantly under the direction of Mr. L. K. Thompson to provide efficient service in this area each period of the day.

CAFETERIA WORKERS

The formidable task of satisfying the enormous appetites of approximately 1,200 teen-agers at lunchtime each day is handled very competently by Mrs. Ellen Dillehay and her staff.

 Sponsor . . . . . MRS. GEIST

The Crafts and Models Club, under the direction of Mrs. Geist, was set up to teach the members to make useful articles from scrap material. Entertaining hobbies such as building models and other such projects are brought to the attention of the members by means of bi-monthly contests.

FRENCH CLUB

President . . . . . RICKY BECHTOLD
 Vice-President . . . . . RONNIE BRADLEY
 Sec.-Treas. . . . . CANDY WATSON
 Sponsor . . . . . MRS. DILLON

The activities of the French Club are designed to enrich and enlarge the members' knowledge and appreciation of the French, their language, their literature and their customs. Life as it is lived in France is a never-ending topic for discussion and becoming acquainted with the food of France is a major focal point of interest.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

President . . . . . BOBBY SIRCY
 Vice-President . . . . . SCOTT LEE
 Sec.-Treas. . . . . DELORES BASS
 Sponsor . . . . . MRS. MILLER

Through their study of Spanish the members of El Circulo Espanol increase their knowledge and understanding of the people who speak Spanish, their customs, and their culture. This year the interest was heightened by programs presented by persons who are well acquainted with Mexico, Argentina, and Spain. The year's program was climaxed by a dinner centered around the food of Spain.

JUNIOR CIVITAN CLUB

President . . . . . EDDIE GREEN
 Vice President . . . LAMONT INGALLS
 Sec.-Treas. . . . . BOBBY OVERTON
 Sponsor . . . . . MR. ROCHE

The Junior Civitan Club promotes good citizenship and good-will for all in our schools and communities. This year's club gave orientation talks to the seventh and eighth grade classes to prepare them for their future years in high school. Watching over the small children at home basketball games was a major project for the Civitan Club.

Donelson Win Evades Rams

Jimmy Crawford and John Sloan apply their talents in a crucial tackle on the Donelson field.

TACKLES: Kneeling: Danny Bryant, Mike Head. Standing: Daryl Ford, Daryl Hutchison.

Rapidly paced action on the Donelson field reaped fine returns for the Rams. Although Madison suffered a loss, it was without question the Ram's best performance of the season.

Inspired by last year's upset victory over Donelson, Reed Hawkins smashed through the Don defense for an early 7-0 lead. The excellent play of John Sloan and Wade Shell enabled Madison to maintain this margin until the second quarter when Donelson managed to score its second touchdown.

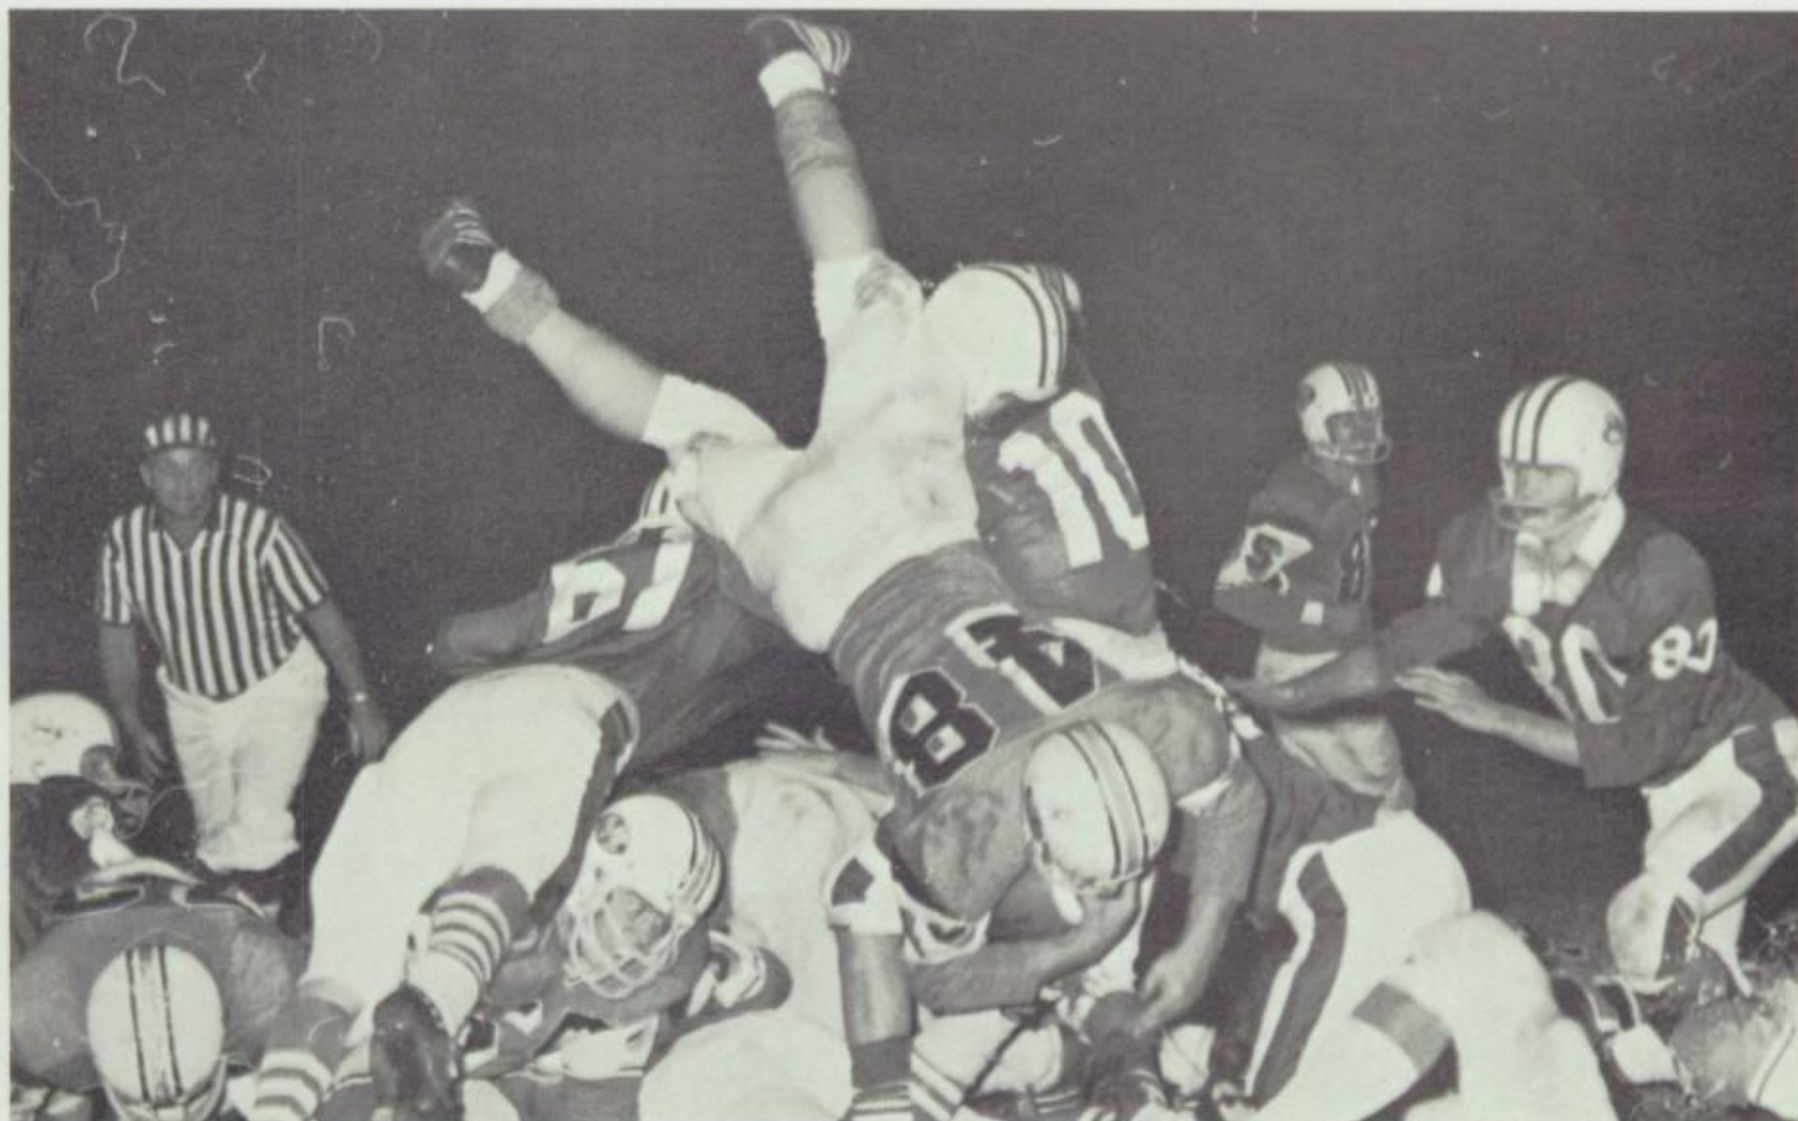

As third quarter play ended, the Rams were trailing by only two points with more than 100 yards rushing added to their record. Suddenly, with five minutes of play remaining, a Donelson offensive move yielded a TD.

Attempting to rally, quarterback Steve Moore fired a 23 yard touchdown pass to end Mike MacDonald.

As the buzzer sounded, Madison fans left the field disappointed at the 25-20 score, but thoroughly satisfied with the responsive play of the Rams.

Rams Romp Over Burros

Homecoming was highlighted by Ronnie Christian's brilliantly executed dive through the Burro defense.

Madison's homecoming classic pitted the mighty Rams against the Burros of Hillsboro, rated the state's number one defensive team. Amidst the glittering ceremonial lights, the Burros, expecting a win, were stunned as the Big Orange carried a 21-27 victory over their opponents.

Very early in the game fullback Robert Birdsong heightened the spirits of Madison spectators as he rambled across the goal line for Madison's first touchdown. By the second quarter, the Rams had tallied a substantial margin with two touchdowns and two extra points.

In the last ten minutes, stymied by every effort, the Burros finally scored. As the buzzer sounded the game's close, the Rams, led by Ronnie Christian, had totaled 233 yards rushing.

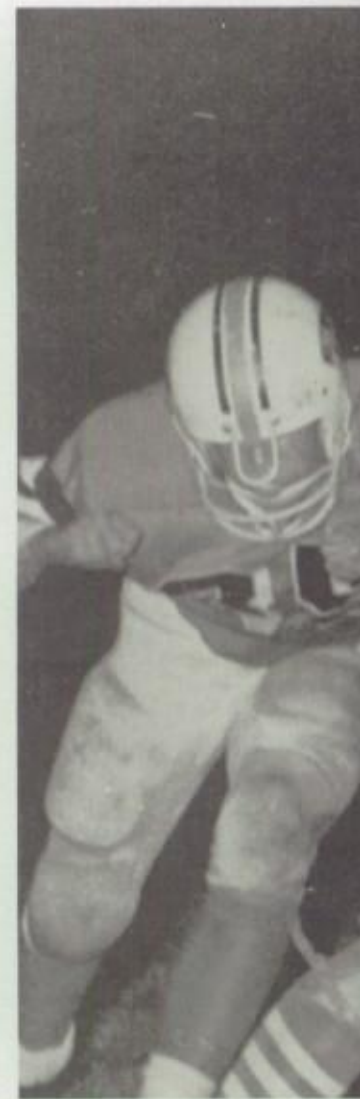

SPECIALISTS: Cliff Walton, Dan Breckenridge, Melvin Odom.

Rams Penetrate Panther Defense

The swift-footed movement of Robert Harrison brings about his escape from the Cameron competitors as he crosses the goal line for a Madison TD.

Narrowly clipping Cameron High School with a 7-6 win, Madison emerged victorious in one of its closest games of the year.

The Panthers, winning the toss, elected to receive the opening kickoff, which they fumbled on their own nine yard line. Madison, quickly recovering the ball, strengthened its drive for the goal line. After six plays, a sudden charge made by Robert Harrison marked up a touchdown for the Rams. Skillfully added was the game's deciding extra point by kicking specialist Mike McDonald.

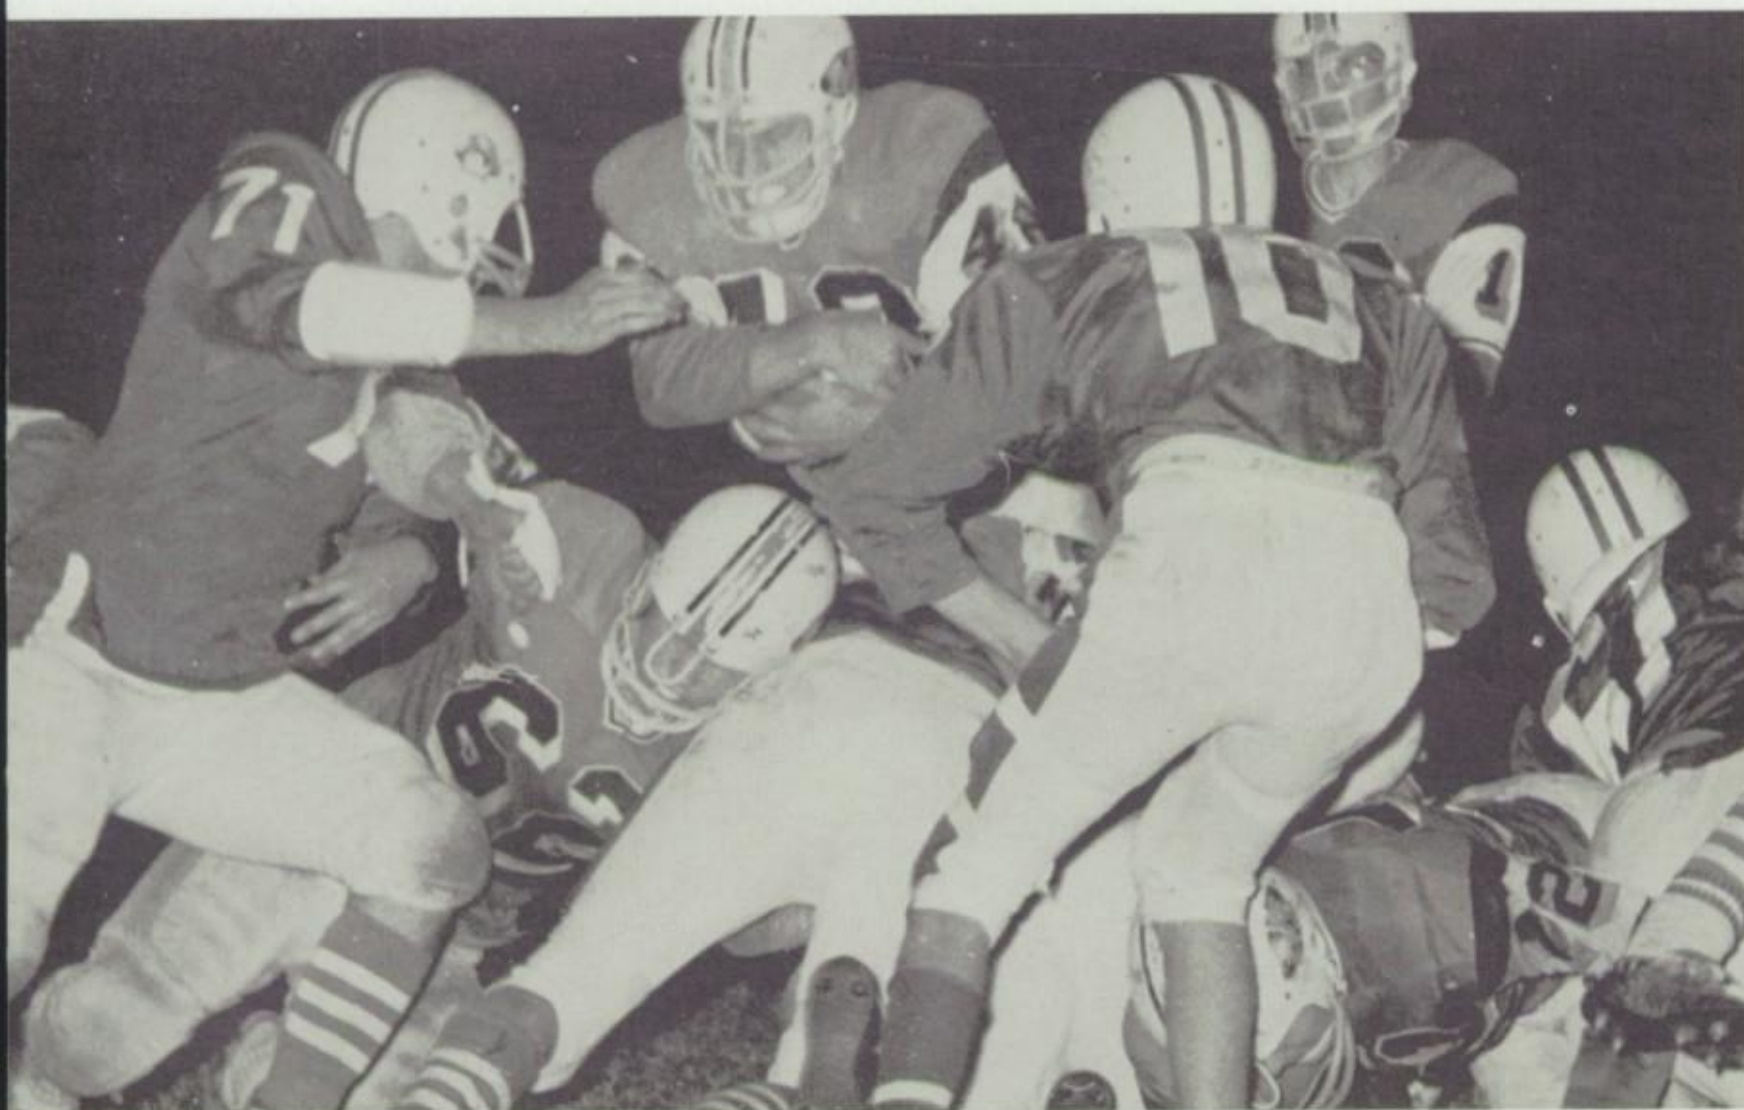

Outstanding Madison defense withstood every attack made by the Panthers. Heavy rushing crushed no less than three goal line attempts until the last quarter, when a blocked punt enabled a touchdown setup.

ENDS: Roy Jones, Larry Deweese, Mike McDonald

Rams Tromp Trojans

Ronnie Christian rams the Pirate defense for another TD in Madison's 21-6 triumph.

BACKS: Kneeling: Terry Murff, Steve Moore; Standing: Robert Birdsong, Ronnie Christian.

The Goodlettsville defense crumbled under the heavy pressure of the Madison Rams, yielding a 25-6 victory over the Trojans. With a series of misfortunes tracking the Rams, this was the first game in which the Madison team actually scored.

In very successful offensive plays, Ronnie Christian charged across the goal line for the first and last of four Madison touchdowns. The remaining two were to the credit of Reed Hawkins and Terry Murff, Murff exciting the crowd with a 53-yard jaunt.

The fury of the game's play was also revealed in the game statistics. The Rams totaled a remarkable 304 yards rushing as well as 18 first downs.

Madison Grapples With Madison

Terry Murff and Larry Dewese scramble for a fumble during game play. Its recovery yielded a Ram first down.

The Rams awarded a crushing blow to the Green Wave of Gallatin with a 21-7 win, enabling Madison to complete its 13th successful season of play with a 6-3-1 record.

Although heavily outweighed by their Gallatin opponents, the Rams offered consistent play, recording a touchdown and extra point in all but the game's third quarter.

First to light the score board was Ronnie Christian on a one yard plunge through the Green Wave defensive line. Robert Birdsong followed suit in the game's second quarter when he snagged a pass fired 23 yards by quarterback, Steve Estep.

By the second half, Gallatin was trailing 14 points behind Madison. Reed Hawkins widened the gap for the Rams when he jaunted 70 yards to achieve the last touchdown of the evening and in a fine evening's work marked up 101 yards in eight carries of the ball.

COACH COLLIER

Tracked by a series of misfortunes the Rams suffered some disappointing setbacks early in the season. Although the Madison club was victorious in but 6 of 20 games played, the Rams hosted their opponents in the most sportsmanlike manner. In addition, the avid support of regular fans patterned a season of spirit to rival that of any other team in the NIL.

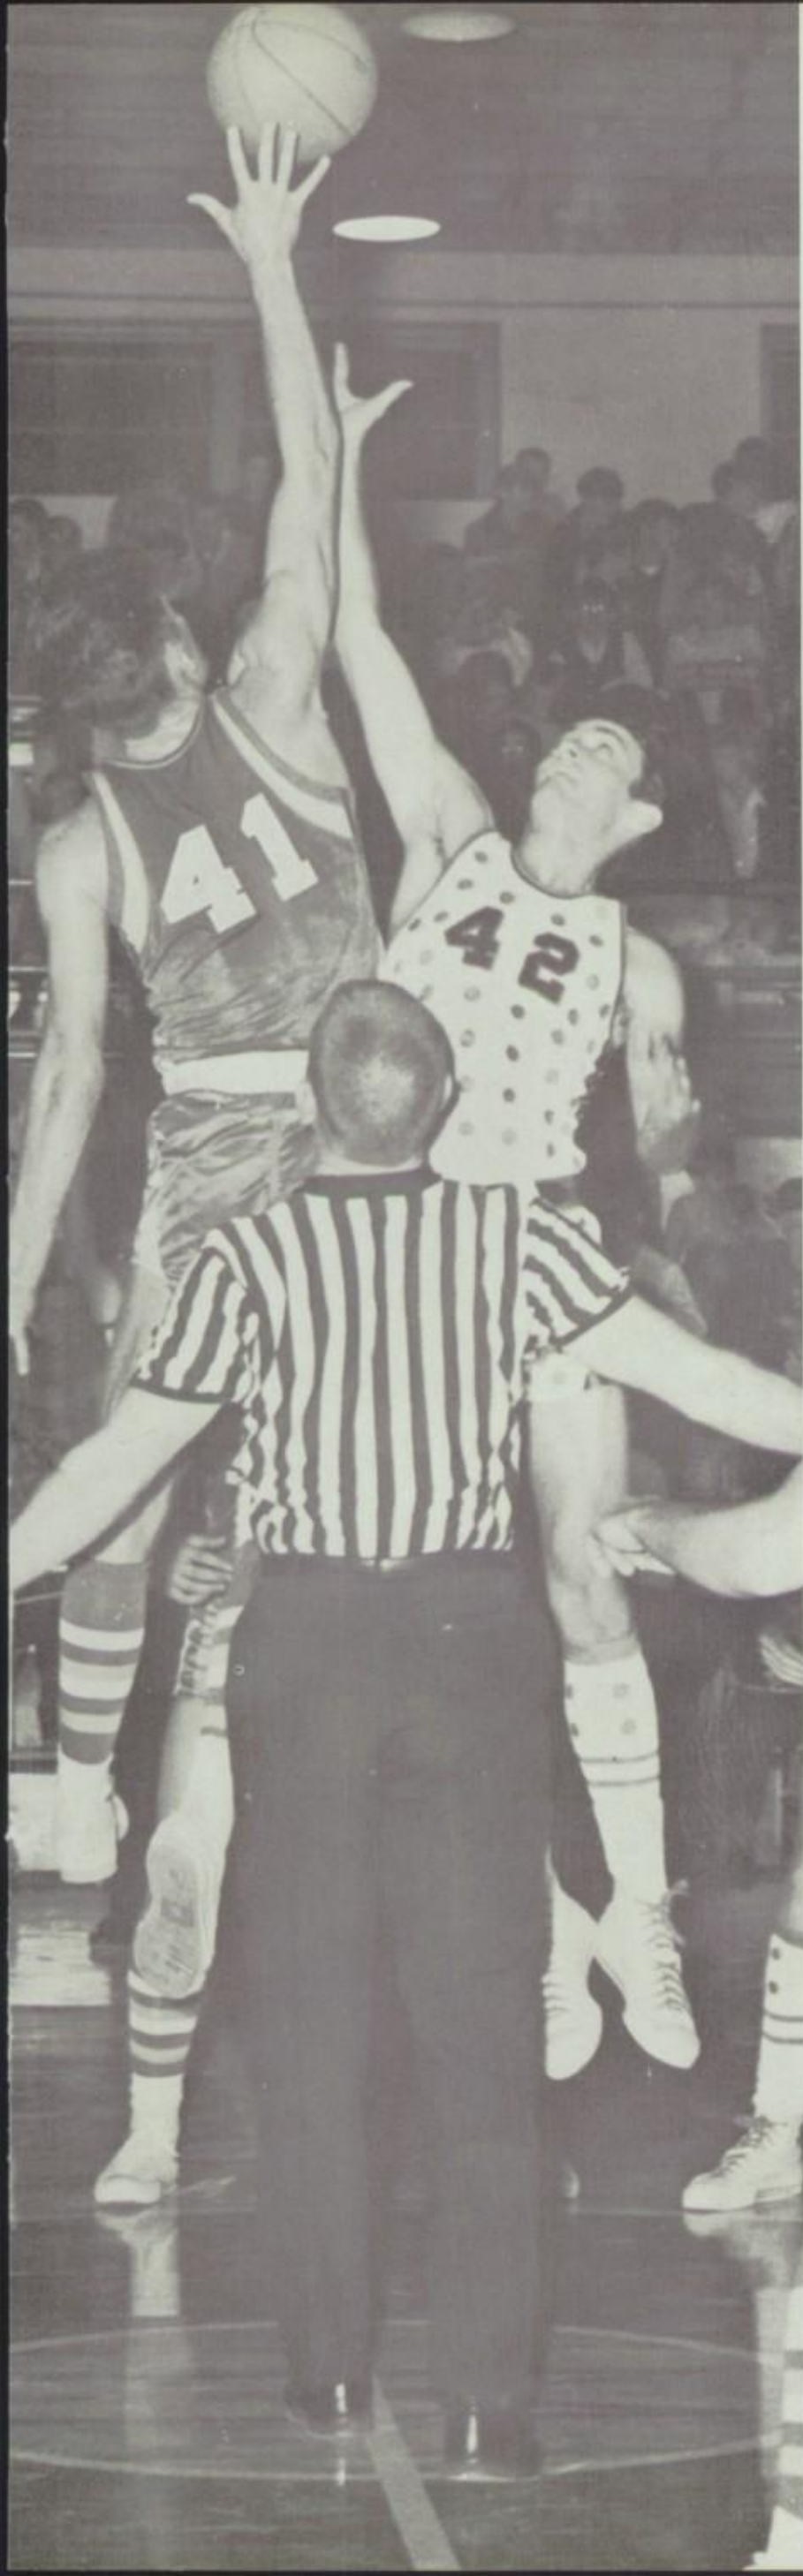

Once the problems of early season play had been corrected, however, Madison executed brilliant offense which highlighted the latter games of the season. Among the Ram conquests were victories over both Donelson and DuPont—branded by observers as definite upsets for Madison's opponents. High-scorers for these two games were co-captains Steve Moore and Sammy Wolfe with a combined total of points well above the seasonal average.

Team members Mike Burns, Philip Patterson, Gary Forsythe, Ricky McDonald, and Steve Estep added a bolstering effort to team play, both at home and on the road.

Forward Steve Moore puts forth a tremendous effort to find he has been momentarily outpaced by his competition.

Coach Collier expounds on the finer points of forward play.

Captains Steve Moore and Sammy Wolfe

Mike Burns finds action heavy under the net as he grasps for an unclaimed ball.

On a side-angle shot, Ricky McDonald goes for two points.

A well-placed shot by Bob Williams adds two points to Madison's side of the scoreboard.

Sammy Wolfe snags a rebound to the aggravation of a Two Rivers' play.

JUNIOR VARSITY

JUNIOR HIGH

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Madison's Ramettes, sporting new orange and white uniforms, excited spectators with their enthusiasm and spirit. Miss Camilla Sparkman, the new varsity coach, greatly influenced the girls with her unlimited talent and devotion. Although winning only 7 games, the lady Rams and their coach showed the effort of a truly determined squad.

Goodlettsville, Bellevue, and Two Rivers edged the Ramettes by margins of less than 3 points at the opening of the season. Seeking revenge for an earlier loss, the team upset Two Rivers by a score of 63 to 56. On a last period field goal, Madison downed DuPont 50 to 48. In addition, the squads of Joelton and Goodlettsville fell victims to the Ramettes in their second meeting on the court.

The efforts offered by Jane Barron, Paulette Lindsley, Cindy Potter, Becky Herod, Dianne Carver, and Connie Hunter are of particular note in evaluating the past season of play.

COACH SPARKMAN

Co-Captains: Becky Herod and Cindy Potter

Forward Dottie Hale rises above her Buccaneer guards to drop a shot into the cage.

Seniors Bid Farewell To Alma Mater

For the Seniors, the curtain is finally being drawn to a close. They have reached the utmost rung on their scholastic ladder to success. Long to be remembered are the deadlines on the RAM and the RAM PAGE, those last minute touchdowns, the hours of fun and hard work spent on the spaghetti supper and the prom, college board and ACT tests, the bonfire of "Beat Litton Week" and, last, but by no means least, final exams.

The duties of the Senior Class have been many. Under the supervision of the faculty, they have headed the Student Council, held positions of leadership in honor organizations, and helped in the office.

The tired looks gained from four years of work are fading into a smile, a smile of achievement. The long awaited moment soon arrives. Anticipation, eagerness, relief, and a little regret are mirrored in the faces of those figures who don the traditional caps and gowns of graduation. Stepping forward to receive those longed-for diplomas, one may falter, for this is no ordinary step. Knowing not what the future holds but having set their standards, goals, and ideals, they look ahead with pride to whatever life has in store. And so they leave Madison with a broad smile, and a tear, knowing that they have been a part of MHS and that MHS will always be a part of them.

Juniors Looking Foreward To Final Step

The Junior Class found itself on the threshold of a new and different world when it returned to school in the fall. Gone were the lackadaisical days of the lower classman—the giddiness and the gaiety. The days of responsibility, determination of goals, and independent thinking made their appearance. The school with its buildings and its faculty was seen with a deeper understanding of what education really means. Friendships became more valued; life became more thoughtful.

With all this new awareness came responsibilities. Work and concentration were called for in planning the prom, electing class officers, taking tests for college preparation, and preparing for the "future." The responsibilities were many, but the rewards of being a vital part of a group have far exceeded the work. A successful dance, an active Student Council campaign, a class ring were all rewards dear to the Juniors' hearts.

With only one rung left on the ladder of learning, the Juniors now anticipate the coming year as they watch old friends graduate and realize how soon they, too, will be Seniors.

Sophomores Become Veteran Students

Surviving the first years of high school, the class of '69 has acquired an air of experience at MHS. Veterans that they are, they have the privilege of sitting downstairs at pep meetings and assemblies and enjoying the new friends made from the "Bend". A year older, a year wiser, possibly a year more foolish, the Sophomores have reached the halfway mark of high school. They can now look back with joy at the memories shared during those first years and look ahead with anticipation to the future.

Freshmen Face New Beginning

For Freshmen, the year of 1967 has been a bewildering year yet one that has brought moments of fun, tribulation, and the foundation for happy memories. The freshman year can be either a happy recollection or a hardship—yet one must be a "lowly freshman" before he can ascend the ladder of learning. Changing classes at each bell, class elections, rushing to lunch down a crowded hall—all have been necessary hardships for Freshmen; but these are the very memories which each will cherish in later years.

1967

Hours of practice leading to final success . . .

Seniors working diligently in order to graduate . . .

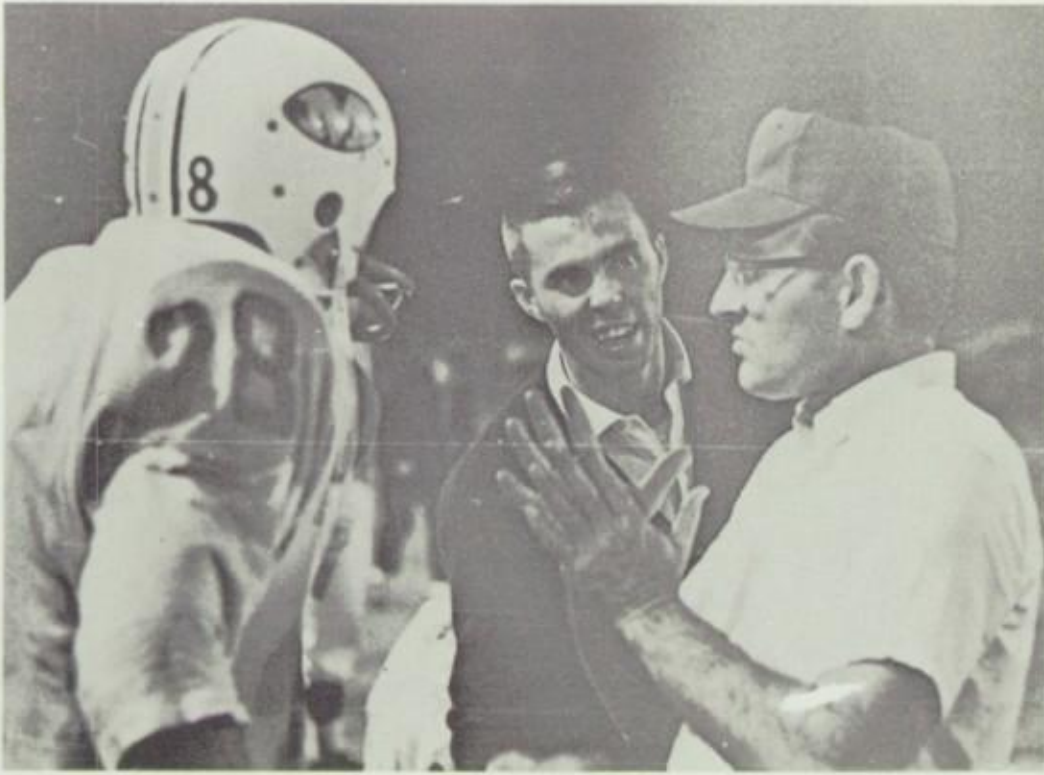

Giving males the warning as Sadie Hawkins Week begins . . .

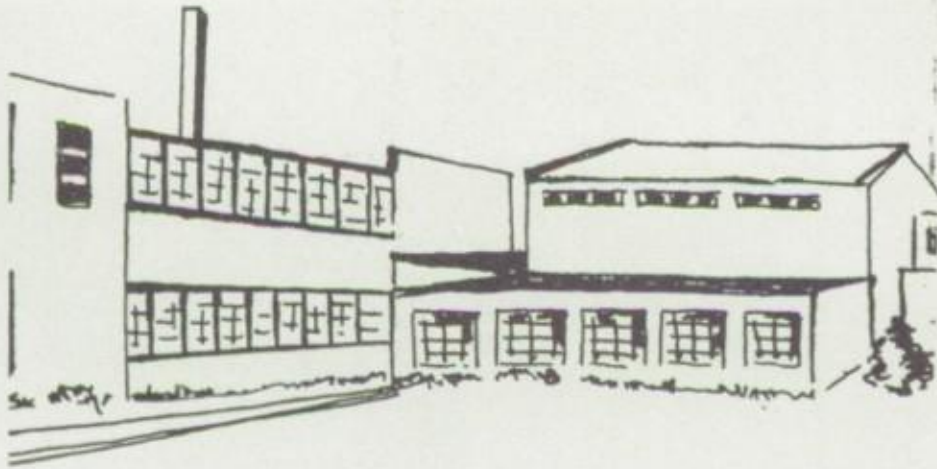

Richard McGaugh's electronic genius always at work . . .

Planning strategy for a victory . . .

On Veterans' Day honoring those who fought for our freedom . . .

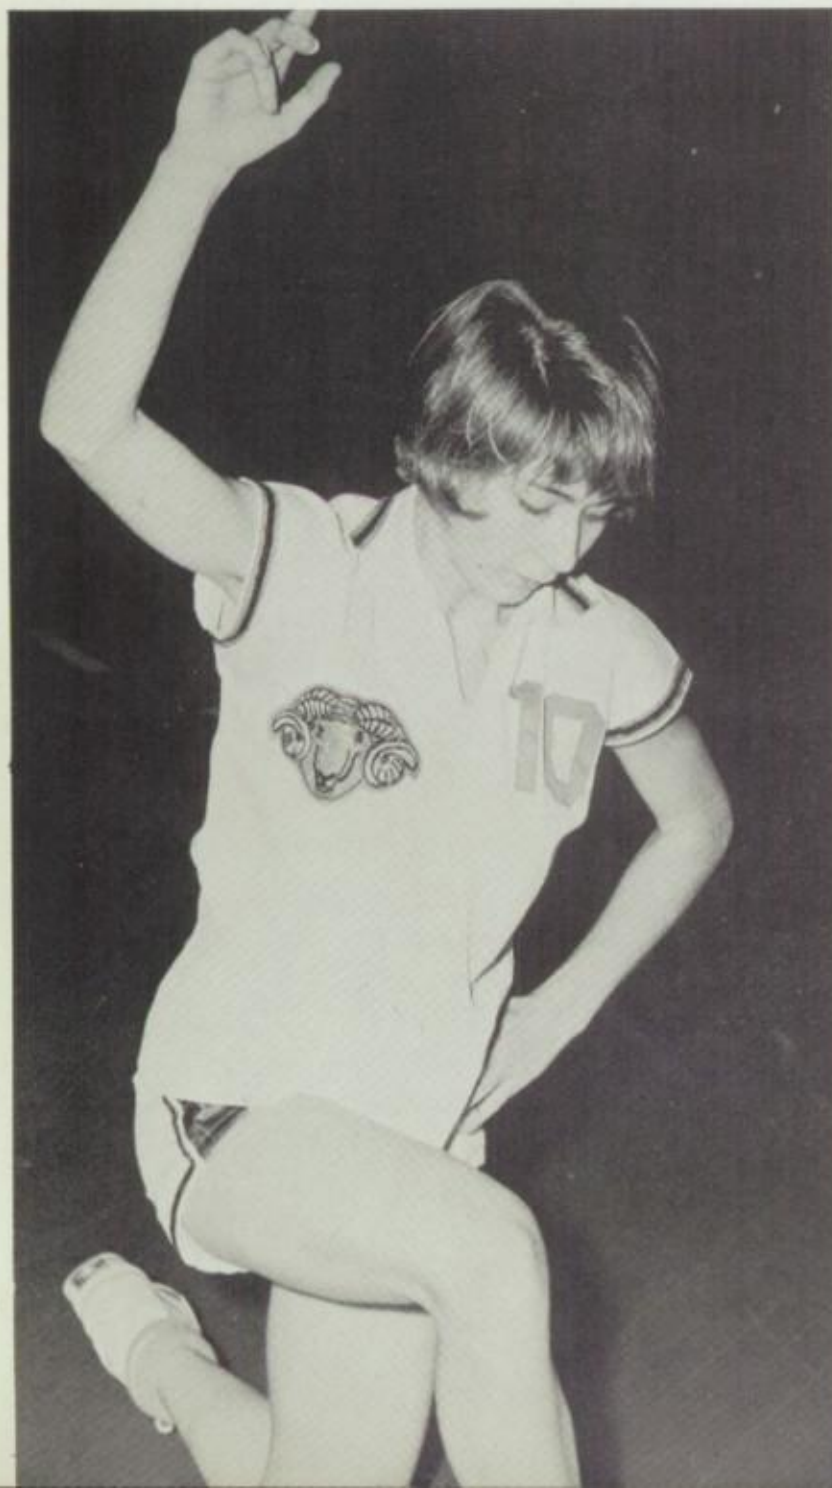

Those "crazy" pep meetings which reflected all our enthusiasm and pep . . .

Discovering new talents . . .

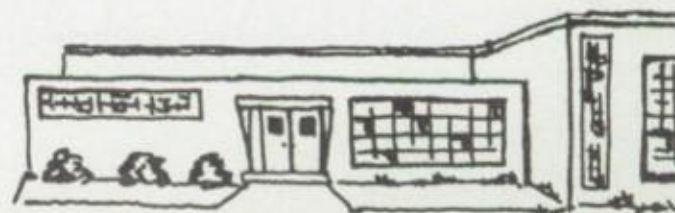

Realizing that disappointments have to be met even in those tense moments when a player commits a foul . . .

Vocalists Bill Anderson, Katherine Hendricks, Paulette Gannon, Judy Reece, Gilbert Aldridge, and Debbie Rains (not pictured) being selected for the All-State Chorus . . .

Supporting the team through victory and defeat . . .

AND ANOTHER YEAR ENDS...

Finding the strongest exhausted . . .

Attaining the long-awaited goal . . .

We Honor

Diminutive, unassuming, she performs the duties of teacher and counselor with quiet and efficient grace. At first glance, one may not be aware of the many-faceted personality she possesses, but those who have had the privilege of working with her know the great value of the associations.

Some will remember her as a teacher whose life-long love of learning so filled her with enthusiasm that she imbued those around her with the same vitality.

Others will remember her as a friend who praised, cajoled, and demanded the best efforts they had. They knew that she, too, would devote herself, her time, and her energy to any task, never asking more than she was willing to give.

All will remember the personal dedication, the willingness and ability to achieve, the well-considered words. They will remember fondly and proudly Mrs. Wade C. Miller, invaluable friend and excellent teacher.

For these endearing qualities and for her excellent year-books, Madison High students and the RAM Staff of 1966-67 honor her.

"WHEN TIME STEALS OUR YEARS AWAY, IT SHALL STEAL OUR PLEASURES TOO, THE MEM'RY OF
THE PAST WILL STAY AND HALF

Always treasure life and be glad you've got it, but don't ever be afraid to lose it.

Take it (life) as it comes.

your friend,
(RABBI) Eddie S.

Dear George,
Best of Everything forever, just keep that great personality and you'll make the grade.
You're really sweet,
stay that way! May God
Bless
